COMICS

Ah, the fall feast.

After the glow of the Frosty moon, we enter the year's final complete moon cycle. This is a time when loved ones gather to express gratitude and share beautiful meals together.

After your main course, what better way to close your feast than with the flavors of the season's favorite gourd?

Allow me to share one of my favorite animal-free recipes...

You Will Need...

CRUST ♥ adapted from EASY AS VEGAN PIE

- All Purpose Flour - 1 and a half cups
- Refined Coconut Oil - 6 Tbsp (chilled)
- Salt - 1/4 Tsp
- Sugar - 1 Tbsp
- Lemon - 1 medium
- Ice Water - 1 cup

ETC.

- Cupcake Pan
- Rolling Pin

Make sure to get pumpkin puree, NOT "Pumpkin Pie"!

Our blend will be personal, filled with love, and cruelty free; better in every way.

FILLING ♥ adapted from Minimalist Baker

- Pumpkin Puree - 2 cans
- Almond Milk - 1/3 cup
- Cornstarch - 2 & 1/2 Tbsp
- Maple Syrup - 1/4 cup
- Brown Sugar - 1/4
- Salt - 1/4 tsp
- Coconut Oil - 1 Tbsp
- Cinnamon, Nutmeg, Cloves & Ginger (to taste)

This part should come easy.

You can blend all of the ingredients in one container.

With the spices, I like about 1 teaspoon of cinnamon, a pinch of ginger, and a couple more pinches each of nutmeg and cloves.

This is my chosen mix, but taste as you go to ensure proper harmony.

The dough should be ready! After warming it up for a couple of minutes, dust a clean, flat surface with flour for the roll-out.

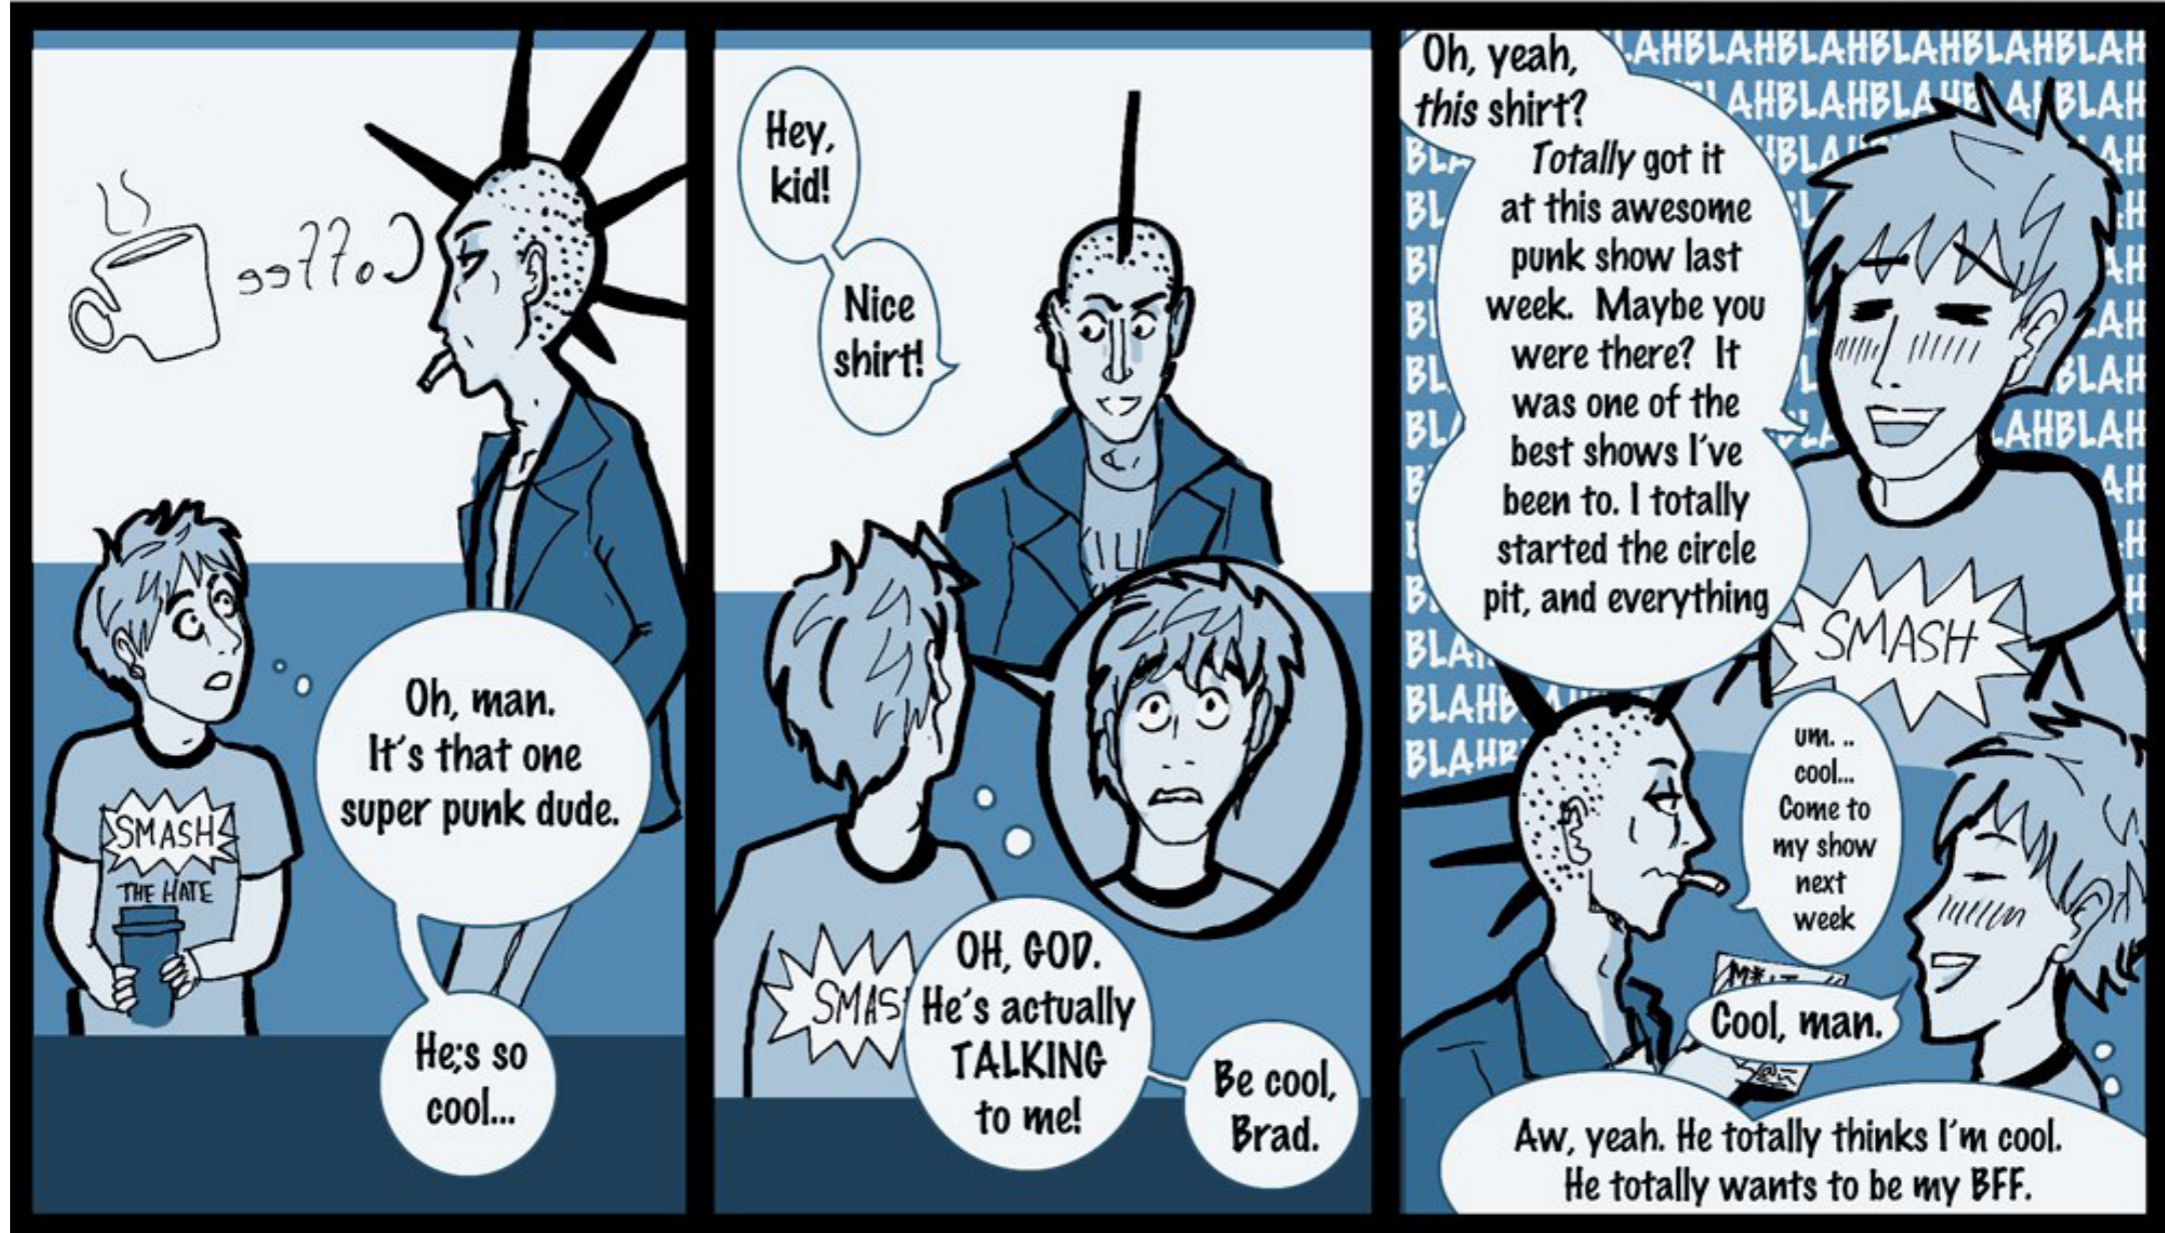

Try to spread it evenly down to less than a quarter-inch thick. Don't lose heart if it tears a bit! A little splash of water and flour may be all you need to get it right!

The best alchemical methods include a little prayer that imbues a piece of yourself into your creation.
